Fall 2006

It's Just Nice Every Year

The Bakerville Marketplace and Used Book Sale, our annual summer fundraiser, brought in more than $3800 on Saturday, August 5th. 🏠

The teacup auction featured upwards of 70 items generously donated by patrons and local businesses.

Kids and adults sold crafts and other goodies.

The Used Book Sale had something for everyone.

At the facepainting booth, an early request for a rose on an ankle led to a spate of flowers on legs (plus a dragon), and a fashion statement at a few New Hartford parties that evening.

Thanks to All Our Volunteers...

Up Next at Book Club

October's book is Sacred Time by Ursula Hegi. By turns funny and tragic, it charts a half-century in the lives of an Italian-American family in the Bronx. Copies of the book and the audio are available at the Bakerville Library. Please call Carmen Neale, 482-1428, for the date and location. 🏠

A Sign of Good Things

We would like to thank Adam Carvalho, the New Hartford Boy Scout who made the new sign for the front of the library. The letters can be changed, and the sign can be used and then stored away. You've made us very happy, Adam! 🏠 coming up @ your library™

Thursday, October 26

Mary Kay fundraiser at the library, with Mary Svetz-Juliano. Time to be announced—stay tuned.

Friday-Saturday, December 1-2

Bakerville Holiday Festival—our annual winter fundraiser, with a bonfire, carol sing, tree lighting, silent auction, and a special appearance by Mrs. Claus for the children.

Summer Reading

It's a wonder their eyes are still in their heads: The Bakerville Library had 114 readers read a total of 3,056 books this summer. 🏠
